You are implicit in the wiping out of what made Adelaide a great medium size city with rampant infill, neglect of heritage & suburban character destruction. Stop chasing residential construction at all costs as a means of propping up the economy in the short term. Sydney, Melbourne & Brisbane are examples of where excessive population drives congestion, urban infill whilst urban sprawl continues unabated. You will not stop urban sprawl when governments continues to urge more population via immigration so your role in driving urban infill is useless & only leads to leaving Adelaide a less desirable place to live.
