Good morning,

I wish to live in a Tiny House On Wheels [THOW] which will be totally off-grid. Whether is by buying a small lot with no buildings but services nearby, or to lease a small area of private land with no services.

Many council planning departments define a THOW from being a caravan to an out building and as such I am unable to legally reside permanently in it when parked as above.

Council planners state to me that they do not possess codes to allow THOW living in this State.

I know of many South Australians who wish to have this as an affordable and environmentally friendly way of living. Not all of us have a big family or need the greatest of the latest. We just want a comfortable, clean, place to call our own, that is within our financial reach.

I wish to submit to the Planning Commission that amendments to the new planning codes are MADE to allow South Australians to take advantage of this exciting and innovative form of shelter and give to councils specific planning tools to allow this to take place.

Thank you for your time

Carolina
